Re: Hurricane Preparedness

Zeus is monitoring Hurricane Florence's path regularly to provide our employees with the most current, accurate information as possible. While it is too early to forecast the long-distance direction of Hurricane Florence, it is always best to be prepared. Attached is a copy of NOAA's (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) suggested emergency supplies to have on-hand in your home in the event of damaging storms or hurricanes.

Please review this list carefully and plan ahead as much as possible. Zeus will continue to monitor the storm.
